Public invited to intergenerational Earth Day celebration

APPLETON, Wis. — Earth Day Network, the official sponsor of the annual environmental celebration, is calling people of all ages and walks of life to celebrate and support a healthy environment with this year's Earth Day 2009: The Green Generation.

On Tuesday, April 21 at 9:30 a.m., many generations will celebrate Earth Day at Touchmark on West Prospect, 2601 Touchmark Drive in Appleton. The first 20 visitors will receive a complimentary tree sapling.

Third- and fourth-grade students from Fox River Academy, a public environmental education charter school, will present an interactive nature presentation. Author, writer, and filmmaker Bill Jamerson will share stories and songs about the Civilian Conservation Corps, a Depression-era work program that ran from 1933 to 1942. An after-presentation pizza party will top off the event.

“This event unites generations and offers people a fun opportunity to share their common passion for the earth,” says Life Enrichment/Wellness Director Julie Buss.

People can RSVP by calling (920) 832-9100 by April 20.

Touchmark is located on 40 acres directly across from the Butte des Morts Country Club at 2601 Touchmark Drive. The retirement community offers a wide range of homes and lifestyle options.
